What are Himalayan Salt Products?

The salt products manufacturing project entails production of rock salt crystal products ranging from lamps, tiles, candle stands, salt soaps and various decorative shapes / pieces. There is a growing demand of salt products in western countries due to its healing properties for their natural curative properties and distinctive color composition of decorative items.

Pure Rock salt is a type of organic salt with lot of health benefits. It extracted from foothills of the Himalayas, Khewra Salt Mine, and Pakistan. Standard Salt owns a large mine and we make sure our salt delivery for our clients which will never get disturbed.

We are producing premium quality salt in bulk. Exporting salt in wholesale prices to the international salt businesses that can safely supply to the end consumer.

We invest heavily in making better approaches to serve our clients. Regardless of whether it's creating inventive strategies to lift the quality of rock salt products.

Always focus in improving our delivery and procedures to address your issues

The pink Himalayan salt has up to 84 other minerals and trace elements. These include common minerals like potassium and calcium, as well as lesser-known minerals like strontium and molybdenum. In a study conducted by Microbiologist Dr. Albert Krueger of the University of California, it was seen that the Himalayan salt increased ions up to 300 percent and that air with ions prevented the formation of bacteria and led to a clean and healthy atmosphere.

International Uses:

Granulated salt:

Granulated salt is the crystalline form of Himalayan pink salt. It is extracted by grinding pure Himalayan Pink salt rocks into tiny particles of 25-30 Mesh, 1-2mm, 2- 5mm & client required size.

Himalayan Salt Lamps:

This Himalayan salt lamp is a beautiful tall cube shape. It resembles a small stone column and is a wonderful conversation piece. They consist of large blocks of salt with an inner light source that heats the salt and remove air pollutants. They improve the air quality, and boost a person's mood. They are attractive and create a beautiful ambiance by limiting the light in the evening. Our Himalayan salt lamps are beautifully hand-shaped from real salt crystals:

- Export Quality with Certified Electric Work
- Any Shape & Size
- Client Demanded Packing
- Worldwide Shipping
- You can order your own customized design too

International Uses:

HIMALAYAN SALT BRICKS / TILES:

Himalayan salt walls have now become a healthy part of our home décor. Himalayan salt tile walls also emerge anions, these negatively charged ions positively impact your body by alleviating depression, and anxiety and inducing good effects on your lungs. The salt crystals also improve breathing issues when inhaled, this phenomenon is known as Halo therapy or salt therapy. Several studies have been performed to evaluate the effect of salt inhalation. We have made it easy for you to design your home in a unique and healthy way.

- Easy to install in your home.
- Contains 84 trace minerals and inhaling these particles present in your surroundings improves respiratory conditions such as asthma and allergies.
- Put this brick in the refrigerator and serve cold appetizers at your net get-together – cheese, sushi or carpaccio.

International Uses:

ANIMAL LICK SALT:

Animal feed salt is an essential addition to animal feed. Salt maintains the mineral balance of the animals at the right level and keeps your livestock healthy.

Highway Deicing Process:

The rock salt is used in the highway deicing process without being processed in any way. It is ground only at the proper size. Salt does not dissolve the ice, but it does lower the melting temperature of it. Wet rock salt adheres well to asphalt and concrete. The amount of salt used is also reduced in this manner.

- Is it a source of healing or a commercial commodity?

Medical Use: Himalayan salt is being used for asthma, diabetes, circulatory disorders, some allergies, hormonal disorders and certain bone diseases.

Hygiene Standards

We lay great emphasis on the hygienic standards followed in salt packaging. Packaging plays a major role in helping extend the shelf life of a product. The microbiology of a food can be profoundly influenced by the surrounding package. The microorganisms present on the packaging material itself need to be considered along with those of the product.

One of the most critical concerns for our clients is the quality and cleanliness of the environments in which our products are manufactured. We are committed to the strictest standards of hygienic production and have designed the production spaces to meet the strictest standards. We have our own Quality Control Units, who have a full understanding of the demanding nature of our clients' quality and hygiene needs.
